2

Writing Law Society reporting the change in our client's financial position, that we suspect that the Committee may wish a re-assessment, that the pursuer is uncertain of how permanent the employment will be

Writing the pursuer noting the employment she has now obtained, advising that she should complete the form required by the Law Society, this may well mean that she will require to be re-assessed, that we have informed the Law Society of her new employment, that if she does become unemployed in early course we would require to return to the Court to have the Order varied

June

23

Writing pursuer noting that she does not wish to continue with the proceedings at present, that if she does abandon the present action, the legal aid fund would settle our account, explaining the situation regarding expenses

July

7

Writing pursuer noting what she writes, advising that we can appreciate her doubts about proceeding with the case, that it would appear from earlier correspondence that she is now employed, asking her to confirm her present earnings, that if she is indeed earning £75 per week she may wish to re-consider the figures
