BAM

AK Taxed on the point of the Accountant's Fee only.

Accounts of Limited Companies require to be produced annually to the Companies Office. The limited company, [REDACTED], is a separate person from [REDACTED] and therefore the charge for preparing the accounts should be rendered to the company. In any event the Legal Aid Fund is not responsible for expenses of a third party.

The agents produced a letter from the Accountant stating that most of the work for preparing the accounts were used for the annual accounts but some extra work was necessary.

It was agreed that three-quarters of the charge for preparing the accounts should be abated.
